MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE PAROLE AND CORRECTIONAL SUPERVISION AMENDMENT BILL, 1997

1 The main object of the Bill is to make provision that placement under correctional supervision, on parole or on day parole of all prisoners serving a sentence of imprisonment exceeding 12 months will be considered and approved by an independent body after the prisoners have served a compulsory portion of their sentences in a prison.

2. The proposal necessitates the establishment of more than one parole board which will be composed of members of the community and representatives from all the stakeholders in the criminal justice system.

3. The amendment of the Correctional Services Act, 1959 (Act No. 8 of 1959), and the Criminal Procedure Act, 1977 (Act No. 51 of 1977), is proposed in order, inter alia, to regulate the following matters:

- (a) The composition and functions of parole boards;
- (b) the commencement, termination and calculation of sentences;
- (c) the functions of institutional committees;
- (d) the provisions applicable to a prisoner's release or placement under correctional supervision, on parole or on day parole;
- (e) special remission of sentence by the Commissioner of Correctional Services;
- (f) the powers of the Commissioner with regard to placement under correctional supervision, on parole or on day parole; and
- (g) the extension of the power of the courts so as to ensure that a compulsory period of a sentence must be served in detention prior to the consideration of the placement of a prisoner on parole.

4. The Department of Correctional Services and the State Law Advisers are of the view that the procedure set out in section 75 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, should be followed with regard to this Bill.
