MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE VETERINARY AND PARA-VETERINARY PROFESSIONS AMENDMENT BILL, 2001

Background and objects

1.1 The Veterinary and Para-Veterinary Professions Act, 1982 (Act No. 19 of 1982) (“the Act”), establishes the South African Veterinary Council (“the Council”) to regulate veterinary and para-veterinary professions. One of the main reasons for the amendment of the Act is to change the composition of the Council. It has become apparent that the constitution of the Council no longer conforms to present-day requirements and that certain provisions of the Act are not in line with the principles laid down by the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (Act No. 108 of 1996) (“the Constitution”).

1.2 After a broad process of consultation, the following issues were identified as motivation for the restructuring of the present Council:

- * The exclusion of certain members of the South African population from the profession as a result of past policies and the admission requirements of academic institutions.
- * The need for the Council to be more representative in terms of race and gender.
- * The concern that the majority of the present members of the Council are academics and this causes a sector imbalance with regard to representation.
- * The predominance of representation from Gauteng.
- * The importance of taking the needs of previously disadvantaged communities into account.
- * The importance of taking the needs of consumers and clients from all sectors of the community into account.
- * The lack of communicating information on the elected candidates to the electorate needs to be addressed.
- * The apathy of the profession.

After further discussions and in view of the motivation set out above, a revised model of the future constitution of the Council was proposed.

1.3 In addition thereto, the Council requested the following amendments to the Act:

- * Amendment of section 6 of the Act regarding the qualification of members of council: A person may not qualify to be a member of the Council if such a person is found guilty of unprofessional, improper or disgraceful conduct under section 31 of the Act.
- * Amendment to section 14 of the Act regarding the appointment of registrar and staff: Subsection (4) excludes persons who are not proficient in “both official languages” i.e. English and Afrikaans, from being appointed in terms of this section. This is unconstitutional.
- * Amendment to section 20 of the Act regarding the qualifications for registration in terms of the Act: In terms of subsection (5), the Council may accept a degree, diploma or certificate not prescribed under the Act, for the purpose of registration of the holder thereof to practise a veterinary or para-veterinary profession. In the case of registration as a veterinary specialist, the person concerned may be required to write an examination as determined by the Council.
- * Amendment to section 24 of the Act regarding requirements for registration: This section is amended to provide for private companies, that practise a veterinary or a para-veterinary profession as the principal business, to register in terms of the Act to practise that profession.
- * Amendments of section 33 of the Act regarding the disciplinary powers of the Council: If the Council finds a person registered in terms of the Act guilty of unprofessional, improper or disgraceful conduct, the Council may impose a fine not exceeding the amount determined by the Minister by notice in the Gazette.

- * Amendment of section 41 of the Act regarding the making of regulations: All fines specified in the said section are deleted as fines determined in terms of the Adjustment of Fines Act, 1991 (Act No. 101 of 1991), shall be applicable.
- * Deletion of section 42 of the Act: This section is unconstitutional as it places an onus on the accused to prove the contrary.
- * Amendment of section of the Pharmacy Act, 1974 (Act No. 53 of 1974), in order to enable veterinarians to keep and supply medicines to their clients.
