Short title

7. This Act shall be called the Magistrates Amendment Act, 1997.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE MAGISTRATES AMENDMENT BILL, 1997

The Bill emanates from proposals made by the Magistrates Commission, the Association of Regional Court Magistrates of South Africa, the Judicial Officers' Association of South Africa and the Regional Courts' President. The objects of the Bill are briefly the following:

Clauses 1,2 and 3 of the Bill relate to the introduction of the new cluster-system of court management. Section 1 of the Magistrates' Courts Act, 1944 (Act No. 32 of 1944), is amended by the insertion of the definitions of "administrative region", "head of the administrative region" and "Magistrates Commission", whilst the definitions of "court of appeal" and "Minister" are being modernised. Section 2 of the said Act is amended so as to provide for the establishment of administrative regions and section 12 so as to provide that a magistrate of a district shall be subject to the administrative direction of the head of the administrative region in which his or her district is situate.

Clause 4 amends section 13 of the Magistrates Act, 1993 (Act No. 90 of 1993), in order to provide that a magistrate must vacate his or her office on attaining the age of 60 years, as opposed to 65 years. In addition, however, provision is also made for such a magistrate to voluntarily continue in office, provided that his or her mental and physical health enables him or her to so continue and the Magistrates Commission recommends such continuation in office. The period of such continuation must be determined by the Minister after consultation with the Commission.

Clause 5 amends section 14 of the Magistrates Act, 1993, by empowering the Minister to make regulations regarding the conferring on or assigning to magistrates, of administrative powers and duties which do not affect the judicial independence of magistrates.

Clause 6 amends section 16 (regulations) of the Magistrates Act, 1993, by the insertion of a new subsection in terms of which a regulation may provide that any contravention thereof shall constitute an offence punishable by law.

The Magistrates Commission and the representative bodies of the magistracy were consulted regarding the provisions of the Bill.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

The Department of Justice and the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution should be followed with regard to this Bill.
