INTRODUCTION

Government has agreed on 12 outcomes as a key focus of work between now and 2014. Each outcome has a limited number of measurable outputs with targets. Each output is linked to a set of activities that will help achieve the targets and contribute to the outcome. Each of the 12 outcomes has a delivery agreement that in most cases involve all spheres of government and a range of partners outside government. Combined, these agreements reflect Government's delivery and implementation plans for its foremost priorities.

The Medium Term Strategic Framework of Government identifies a number of priorities that are based on the electoral mandate. The outcomes-based approach further identifies the 12 desired outcomes of Government. These are:

1. Improved quality of basic education.
2. A long and healthy life for all South Africans.
3. All people in South Africa are and feel safe.
4. Decent employment through inclusive economic growth.
5. A skilled and capable workforce to support an inclusive growth path.
6. An efficient, competitive and responsive economic infrastructure network.
7. Vibrant, equitable and sustainable rural communities with food security for all.
8. Sustainable human settlements and improved quality of household life.
9. A responsive, accountable, effective and efficient local government system.
10. Environmental assets and natural resources that are well protected and continually enhanced.
11. Creating a better South Africa and contributing to a better and safer Africa in a better world.
12. An efficient, effective and development-oriented public service and an empowered, fair and inclusive citizenship.

The normal budgeting process will continue to determine the allocations to departments. These delivery agreements will be an important input into the budgeting process for 2011/12 and the final budget allocations will affect the order of priorities and phasing of the implementation of this Delivery Agreement. For 2012/13 and subsequently, the annual revisions to the Delivery Agreement will be timed to link with the budget process so that the revised Delivery Agreement is signed off after the budget is signed off.

This International Cooperation Trade and Security Cluster (ICTS) Delivery Agreement is a negotiated charter that reflects the commitment of the key partners involved in the direct delivery process, working together to undertake activities effectively and on time to produce the mutually agreed-upon outputs, which in turn will contribute to achieving Outcome 11, namely “Creating a better South Africa and contributing to a better and safer Africa in a better World”.

The Delivery Agreement provides detail for the outputs, targets, indicators and key activities to achieve Outcome 11. Additionally, it identifies required inputs and clarifies the roles and responsibilities of the various delivery partners. It spells out who will do what, by when and with which resources. While the Delivery Agreement may contain longer-term outputs and targets, it also includes outputs and associated targets that are realisable in the next 4 years.

It also considers other critical factors affecting the achievement of Outcome 11, such as the legislative and regulatory regime, the institutional environment and decision-making processes and rights, the resources needed and re-allocation of resources where appropriate.

This Delivery Agreement will be reviewed annually in the light of “learning by doing” and monitoring and evaluation (M&E) findings. Accordingly, it will be refined over time and become more inclusive of the relevant delivery partners.

1. High-Level Problem Statement

South Africa’s international engagement is anchored on the goal of creating a better South Africa and contributing to a better and safer Africa in a better world. This overarching theme should be instructed further by the conceptualisation of South Africa’s national interest, which should instruct our actions collectively, as individual departments, the private sector, non-governmental institutions as well as civil society in relation to South Africa’s international relations policies, strategies and actions.

South Africa, as an integral part of the African continent, seeks to assert itself on the global stage in a manner that advances the African agenda. This agenda seeks to promote economic growth and development; economic integration at the regional and sub-regional levels; trade and investment; and democratisation and good governance.

Since independence, Africa has made great strides in overcoming the legacy of colonialism and underdevelopment. However, the continent’s progress in addressing the many remaining challenges including economic development, political and economic integration and peace and security is impeded by an inequitable and unjust world order. As we seek to address the socio-economic, political and security challenges of South Africa and Africa, we should also tackle the issues of the reform of institutions of global governance.

In the final analysis, our actions in a complex, unpredictable and ever-changing world have to feed into the agenda of the reconstruction of our country and improve the wellbeing of our people, those of Africa and the rest of the developing world. The future of South Africa is inextricably linked to that of the African continent and the developing world.

2. IDENTIFICATION OF DELIVERY PARTNERS VIS- À-VIS OUTCOME 11

The attainment of Outcome 11 requires a web of complex contributions from a number of core ministries and departments who have a responsibility with regard to Outcome 11. Inter alia, these include the following :

- Department of International Relations and Cooperation (DIRCO)
- National Intelligence Coordinating Committee (NICOC)
- State Security Agency (SSA)
- Department of Defence (DOD)
- Department of Trade and Industry (the dti)
- Department of Science and Technology (DST)
- National Treasury (NT)
- National Department of Tourism (NDT)
- Department of Environmental Affairs (DEA)
- Department of Justice and Constitutional Development (DoJ&CD)
- South African Police Services (SAPS)
- Department of Correctional Services (DCS)
- Department of Public Service and Administration (DPSA)
- South African Revenue Service (SARS)
- Government Communication and Information Service (GCIS)
- International Marketing Council (IMC)
- Department of Home Affairs (DHA)
- STATS SA

3: LINKING OUTPUTS TO OUTCOME 11

TO CREATE A BETTER SOUTH AFRICA AND CONTRIBUTE TO A BETTER AND SAFER AFRICA IN A BETTER WORLD ENTAILS PURSUING THE FOLLOWING CRITICAL OUTPUTS:

3.1 OUTPUT 1: ENHANCED AFRICAN AGENDA AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

The main thrust of South Africa's Foreign Policy is the pursuit of our national interests and priorities, and the African Agenda in particular. Our international engagements are premised on our domestic agenda and developmental priorities.

Promotion of political and economic integration of the continent continues to drive the African Agenda. A commitment exists to provide impetus to this objective which is rooted in the need to strengthen Africa's political, economic and social development as well as its peace and security agenda.

Therefore we must focus on the following sub-outputs:

- Deepened contribution to regional and continental security and stability and sustainable development.
- Strengthened contribution to peace missions and PCRD.
- Deepened technical and development cooperation.

3.2 OUTPUT 2: ENHANCED REGIONAL INTEGRATION

Strengthening regional integration in SACU and SADC remains a major priority that will contribute to the sustained integration of the region into the global economy. South Africa places particular emphasis on political cohesion, economic integration and the building of efficient and responsive economic infrastructure.

South Africa and the countries of the region stand to gain from enhanced regional integration including greater trade resulting from an increase in market size and increased investor confidence which will contribute to sustainable economic development and stability in the SADC region.

Therefore we must focus on the following sub-outputs:

- Regional economic integration.
- Regional political integration.

3.3 OUTPUT 3: REFORMED GLOBAL GOVERNANCE INSTITUTIONS

The current global governance system in the areas of economic development, resources for development, the maintenance of international peace and security and the consistent application of international law do not adequately address the challenges faced concerning the creation of an equitable and just global order. South Africa's participation in the global system of governance is fundamentally premised on our commitment to work towards global political and socio-economic stability and security. In this regard, South Africa already plays a significant role in the international arena, influencing various debates and contributing towards multilateral decisions. In addition to fulfilling its treaty obligations, South Africa must enhance its representation in and strengthen regional, continental and global platforms and governance institutions.

South Africa actively engages various multilateral and treaty organizations according to our national interest. These may be in the realm of international peace and security, humanitarian, environment, political or financial institutions. South Africa will intensify its active role in processes that address issues of reform, restructuring, revitalisation, representivity and strengthening of global governance institutions, as well as the consolidation of solidarity in the context of South-South cooperation and North-South partnerships.

Therefore, we must focus on the following sub-outputs:

- Strengthened regional, continental and global governance institutions and international platforms.
- Enhanced representation of South Africans in international institutions.

3.4 OUTPUT 4: ENHANCED TRADE AND INVESTMENT

To grow economically, South Africa must promote inbound and outbound trade and investment with targeted countries in support of IPAP-2, using amongst other means, expanding and strengthening bilateral cooperation with individual countries in Africa and rest of the world through high-level engagements and strategic bilateral and multilateral economic and trade partnerships.

South Africa will ensure the growth of its exports, in particular higher-value products, and attract significant volumes of direct foreign investments into our country informed by a coordinated export, investment, communication and marketing strategy.

Therefore we must focus on the following sub-outputs:

- Increased value-added exports to targeted economies.

- Increased inward investment from targeted countries.
