GENERAL EXPLANATORY NOTE:

BILL

To provide for a social security scheme for the victims of road accidents; to establish the Road Accident Benefit Scheme Administrator to administer and implement the scheme; to provide a set of defined benefits on a no-fault basis to persons for bodily injury or death caused by or arising from road accidents; to exclude liability of certain persons otherwise liable for damages in terms of the common law; and to provide for matters connected therewith.

PREAMBLE

AS the existing fault-based compensation system administered by the Road Accident Fund, established by the Road Accident Fund Act, 1996 (Act No. 56 of 1996), is not effectively achieving the purpose for which it was created;

AS there is a need for an effective benefit system, which is reasonable, equitable, affordable and sustainable in the long-term, which optimises limited resources and facilitates timely and appropriate health care and rehabilitation to lessen the impact of injuries and which provides financial support to reduce the income vulnerability of persons affected by injury or death from road accidents;

AS there is a need to expand and facilitate access to benefits by providing them on a no-fault basis;

AS there is a need to simplify claims procedures, reduce disputes and create certainty by providing defined and structured benefits; and

AS there is a need to establish administrative procedures for the expeditious resolution of disputes that may arise and to alleviate the burden on the courts,

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Parliament of the Republic of South Africa, as follows:—

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS ON THE ROAD ACCIDENT BENEFIT SCHEME BILL

1. BACKGROUND AND CURRENT REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

- 1.1. The existing compensation system for loss or damage resulting from bodily injury or death caused by the wrongful driving of motor vehicles is the result of a long historical development spanning more than 70 years, commencing with the introduction of compulsory motor vehicle accident insurance in 1942 and culminating in the present compensation system established by the Road Accident Fund Act, 1996 (Act No. 56 of 1996), and managed by the Road Accident Fund (RAF).
- 1.2. Over the years the compensation system has been subjected to numerous commissions of inquiry, but despite the many amendments to the respective governing Acts to implement the recommendations of the various commissions, the flaws inherent in a fault-based system of compensation persisted and the financial state of the compensation system progressively deteriorated.
- 1.3. In 1999 the Road Accident Fund Commission (RAFC) was appointed to inquire into and make recommendations regarding a reasonable, equitable, affordable and suitable system, for the payment by the RAF of compensation or benefits, or a combination of compensation and benefits, in the event of an injury or death of persons in road accidents in the Republic. The RAFC published its report in 2002 recommending a move to the provision of defined and structured benefits, on a “no-fault” basis.
- 1.4. Cabinet subsequently adopted a Policy for the Road Accident Benefit Scheme (Policy) which was published for general information in 2011. The Policy is aimed at providing a scheme of structured and defined benefits to those seriously affected by road accidents in accordance with social insurance principles, and not liability insurance principles as embodied in the existing compensation system.
- 1.5. The Road Accident Benefits Scheme Bill (RABS) (Bill) gives effect to the Policy.

2. OBJECTIVE OF BILL

The main objectives of the Bill, amongst others include, to provide an effective benefit scheme in respect of bodily injury or death caused by or arising from road accidents, which benefit scheme is reasonable, equitable, affordable and sustainable, exclude from civil liability certain persons responsible for bodily injuries or death caused by or arising from road accidents and the establishment of the Administrator.

4. PARTIES CONSULTED

- 4.1 The Bill was published for public comment on 8 February 2013. A national RABS workshop was held on 19 March 2013. Following requests by the public, the initial 60-day comment period was extended by a further 60 days. Certain of the commentators commented that the Bill lacked detail. A decision was consequently taken to republish a revised Bill with draft regulations, rules and forms, to enable the public to get a better understanding of what RABS will entail.
- 4.2 The revised Bill and draft set of regulations, rules and forms were published on 9 May 2014. A national RABS workshop was held on 19 June 2014. Focussed stakeholder consultations were held with industry groupings from commuter groups; insurance industry; funeral industry; disability groups; medical industry and legal fraternity. Following requests by the public, the initial 60-day comment period was extended by a further 90 days. National RABS workshops were held in Zwelitsha Township (Eastern Cape); Empangeni; Pietermaritzburg; Durban; Mahikeng; Rustenburg; Potchefstroom; Giyani; Polokwane; Upington; Kimberley; Nelspruit; Emalaheni; Cape Town; Vredenburg (Western Cape); George; King William's Town; Port Elizabeth; Kroonstad; Manguang; Springs; and Soweto.
- 4.3 The Bill was tabled for consideration by the National Economic Development and Labour Council, who issued its final report on 28 January 2016.
- 4.4 The Department of Transport also consulted the Department of Home Affairs; Department of Health; Department of Social Development; Department of Labour; and the National Treasury.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

- 5.1 The annual RABS costs are actuarially calculated at 136.7 cents per litre, compared to the 169 cents per litre required for the RAF, noting that the current RAF cost already exceeds the 154 cents per litre income received via the Road Accident Fund Fuel Levy. A margin of 15% is added to all RABS cost to ensure a fully funded dispensation.
- 5.2 The winding down of the RAF will cost R213 billion over approximately eight years.

6. IMPLICATIONS FOR PROVINCES

None.

7. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 7.1 The Constitution regulates the manner in which legislation may be enacted by the legislature. It prescribes different procedures for Bills, including ordinary Bills not affecting provinces (section 75 procedure), and ordinary Bills affecting provinces (section 76 procedure). The determination of the procedure to be followed in processing the Bill is referred to as tagging.
- 7.2 The test for tagging is not concerned with determining the sphere of government that has the competence to legislate on a matter, nor the process concerned with preventing interference in the legislative competence of another sphere of government. The test for tagging is distinct from legislative competence in that it focuses on all the provisions in the Bill in order to determine the extent to which they substantially affect the functional areas listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution and not whether any of its provisions are incidental to its substance.

- 7.3 In the case of Tongoane and Others v Minister for Agriculture and Land Affairs and Others, 2010 (8) BCLR 741(CC), the Constitutional Court pronounced on the test to be used when tagging legislation.
- 7.4 In Tongoane the Constitutional Court held that ‘the test for determining how a Bill is to be tagged must be broader than that for determining legislative competence’. The tagging test ‘focuses on all the provisions of the Bill in order to determine the extent to which they substantially affect functional areas listed in Schedule 4, and not on whether any of its provisions are incidental to its substance’. In applying the tagging test to the Bill, the question that should be asked is whether the provisions in the Bill substantially affect a Schedule 4 functional area. The Road Accident Benefit Scheme is not an item listed in Schedule 4 or 5 of the Constitution.
- 7.5 The Bill addresses crucial issues, namely, to replace the current compensation system administered by the RAF with a new social security scheme, to establish the Road Accident Benefit Scheme Administrator to administer and implement the Road Accident Benefit Scheme and to provide a set of defined benefits on a no-fault basis to persons for bodily injury or death caused by or arising from road accidents.
- 7.6 As the Bill does not deal with a functional area listed in Schedule 4 or Schedule 5 of the Constitution, we submit that section 44(a)(ii) of the Constitution is applicable with regard to the power of the National Assembly to pass legislation on “any matter”. We have scrutinised the contents of the Bill and we are of the opinion that the provisions of this Bill relate to the Road Accident Benefit Scheme.
- 7.7 We are of the view that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the legislative procedure outlined in section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provisions to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
- 7.8 We are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer the Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in accordance with section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leaders and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain any provisions pertaining to customary law of traditional communities.
