GUIDELINES ON THE USE AND APPLICATION OF 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM LOGO
1.1 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM

1.1.1 About the 20 years of freedom
The 20th anniversary of South Africa’s democracy on 27 April 2014 will end the second decade of our freedom.

It will also mark the year in which those born in 1994, 1995, and before April 1996 will have the opportunity to vote in their first ever election. It is important to prioritise this generation, and appreciate that it has got a vested interest in the future.

During this time, South Africans will be afforded an opportunity to recall the momentous events leading up to 27 April 1994 and reflect on the next 20 years; and the kind of South Africa we want in 2034. Every sector of society will likely reflect on the progress made and the challenges that the nation has faced over the past 20 years.

The 20-year mark will be a time for national celebration through formal and spontaneous events, in an inclusive manner, with friends from both the rest of the continent and the world. The celebration will bring an opportunity for further international marketing and positioning.

It will be an opportune moment to capture through print and electronic media reflecting how far we have come as a country. This will present an opportunity to cement South Africans’ national identity and promote social cohesion, and present an opportunity for projecting into the future.

1.1.2 The objectives of the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo
• Mobilising collective ownership of our 20 years of democracy by all South Africans and sectors of society. This will involve encouraging sectors to develop and implement their own celebration plans that will link to the broader national celebration. Critical to collective ownership, is ensuring direct participation and ownership by all South Africans.

• Engendering social cohesion and a national identity that is representative of our rich and diverse culture.

• Creating a build-up of public awareness and excitement, towards Freedom Day and sustain it thereafter throughout 2014. This includes promoting a national mood that encourages popular participation in the various initiatives, including the buildup to the national elections.

• Promoting coherence through encouraging participation by all sectors in a way that lends sustainable momentum and promoting widespread use of the logo and message.

• Promoting awareness of the progress that freedom has brought and a sense of the challenges of the third decade.
• Reposition South Africa within the international community. Includes promoting awareness of the role that international solidarity and partnership played in our liberation and will play in development, and of how the reconstruction and development of SA depend on our engagement in international efforts to create a system of international relations more favourable to development and eradication of poverty.

• Promoting awareness of the vision for the next 20 years and mobilising South Africans to take active part in realising the vision.

• Patriotism – the 20 Years of Freedom and Celebration should be used as an opportunity to build patriotism. The 20 year milestone could be a trigger to initiate a citizen driven patriotism campaign through collaboration with stakeholders towards building up to the next 20 years (i.e. every year a 20 + year with a report on progress publicised on the 27 April each year).

1.1.3 Protecting the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo
The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo/brand is the property of the Government Communication and Information System (GCIS). The copyright and reproduction of the logo/brand for commercial or other uses are vested in GCIS. The logo/brand should not be used for fraudulent or unauthorised transactions. The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo/brand has considerable legal protection arising from various Acts of Parliament and international agreements and protocols.

The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo/brand will enjoy legal protection in most countries. South Africa is a party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, a treaty that has been signed by most countries. Article 6 provides that all member countries must agree to refuse registration of, and to prohibit use of, armorial bearings and other state emblems of member countries without authorisation.
2. BRAND ARCHITECTURE

2.1 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo

2.1.1 Background
The branding architecture is the organising structure of the relationship between the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo/brand and its partnerships. In the case of the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM Celebrations, the mother brand is the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo, represented by the South African freedom as country's principal identity, and the main-brand is the South African Coat of Arms and stakeholders are co-brands.

The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo/brand is the emblem that is managed by the State as an official visual symbol of the 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM celebrations. It is what differentiates the other logo/brand and is an identity that reflects the past 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM as well as embraces the future.
2.1 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo

2.1.2 Construction and meaning
The logo reflects the past 20 years of freedom for South Africa as a country celebrating this event as one nation.

National Flag: Our national flag is the most commonly used visual symbol of South Africa. Our National Flag was hoisted for the first time on 27 April 1994. The National Flag is the symbol of unity for South Africa.

The figures: The figures are the indication of people queuing at the voting stations. The colours of the figures are representing the diverse people in unity.
2.1 The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo

2.1.3 Colours
The logo reflects the past 20 years of freedom for South Africa as a country celebrating this event as one nation. The colours of the Flag are incorporated in the design. Our National Flag is the most commonly and well known used visual symbol of South Africa. The colours are there to celebrate our diversity as a country.

7. CO-BRANDING

7.1 Co-branding

7.1.1 Sponsor/partner
In all instances, the basic principles of colour usage, size, typography and control grid must be applied.

The 20 YEARS OF FREEDOM logo should always be equal to any sponsor/partnership logo. The National Coat of Arms should always be centred or aligned on the left-hand side or above the identity of the party seeking endorsement.

Note: When co-branded, the National Coat of Arms should always take a position of priority.

The two symbols must not be closer than 2XC. There must also be a clear space of no less than 2XC around the edge of the page.

At all times, permission to co-brand with 20 YEARS logo should be obtained from GCIS Head Office.

For permission, e-mail: lynette@gcis.gov.za, rachel@gcis.gov.za, or collen@gcis.gov.za.
