MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE POSTAL SERVICES AMENDMENT BILL, 2006

1. BACKGROUND

The main purpose of the Bill is to bring the Postal Services Act, 1998 (Act No. 124 of 1998) (the Act), in line with the Electronic Communications Act, 2005 (Act No. 36 of 2005), and the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Act, 2000 (Act No. 13 of 2000). Even though the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Amendment Act, 2006, made a number of changes to the Act additional amendments are necessary.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

The following summarises the proposed amendments:

2.1 Clause 1

This clause seeks to amend section 1 of the Act by amending certain definitions used in the Act and by inserting or deleting other definitions.

2.1.1 The definition of “Director-General” is amended to align it with the definition in related legislation.

2.1.2 A definition for “ICT” is proposed since the term is introduced in clause 3. The definition is similar to the definition of ICT in the Electronic Communications Act, 2005.

2.1.3 The Bill seeks to delete the definition of “officer” and to refer in the Act to employees of the postal company (see paragraph 2.10).

2.1.4 The definition of “postmaster” is deleted since it is no longer used in the Act.

2.1.5 The definition of “Regulator” is amended to ensure that it refers to ICASA in accordance with the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Amendment Act, 2006.

2.2 Clause 2

This clause seeks to amend the heading of Chapter II in order to bring it in line with the other amendments to the Act.

2.3 Clause 3

This clause seeks to confirm the power of the Minister to make policy and policy directions for the postal industry. The wording is similar to that of section 3 of the Electronic Communications Act, 2005, in order to ensure consistency.

2.4 Clause 4

This clause seeks to amend section 8(1) of the Act by providing for the alignment of the provision of postal services to the rest of the ICT sector and the inclusion of access to other non-postal but essential services to the definition of universal postal service.

This clause also seeks to repeal subsections (2) and (3) of section 8 of the Act since these subsections became redundant as a result of the amendments effected by the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Amendment Act, 2006.

2.5 Clause 5

This clause seeks to amend section 16(2) of the Act in order to ensure that ICASA may only accept and consider applications for new licences in the reserved service in accordance with policy directions issued by the Minister. This amendment is in line with similar provisions pertaining to electronic communications in the Electronic Communications Act, 2005.

This clause further seeks to amend subsection (8) by replacing the word “Regulator” with “Minister”, as was the position before the Act was amended by the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Amendment Act, 2006. The Minister must have the authority to extend the exclusivity period of SAPO as long as SAPO needs to address postal services in under-serviced areas in order to achieve universal postal services. The amendment of this subsection brings it in line with the proposed section 16(2). This clause further seeks to amend the review period from three years to a period of up to five years.

2.6 Clause 6

This clause seeks to reinstate the wording of section 30(1) of the Act as it was prior to the amendment thereof by the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Amendment Act, 2006. This clause will ensure that ICASA determines the fees and charges payable in respect of the provision of postal services by SAPO, but at the same time ensures that it is subject to the approval of the Minister. This is necessary since the Minister still carries the responsibility to ensure that under-serviced areas are serviced and that a universal postal service is ensured by the provision of reserved services by SAPO.

2.7 Clause 7

This clause seeks to amend section 59 of the Act by replacing the reference to the now repealed “Telecommunications Act, 1996” with the “Electronic Communications Act, 2005”.

2.8 Clause 8

This clause seeks to repeal section 65 of the principal Act since a similar provision now appears in section 17H(1)(g) of the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa Act, 2000.

2.9 Clause 9

This clause seeks to effect a textual correction in section 80 of the Act by replacing “Electronic” with “Independent”.

2.10 Clause 10

This clause seeks to amend the Act by the substitution for the word “officer” wherever it occurs of the expression “employee of the postal company”. This clause is necessary as a result of the proposal in paragraph 2.1.3 that the definition of “officer” be deleted. The continued use of the word “officer” as including “any person employed by the postal company or in connection with any business of the postal company” is too wide and may cause confusion.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

6.1 The State Law Advisers and the Department of Communications are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
