MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE LIQUOR BILL, 2003

1. BACKGROUND

The Department of Trade and Industry (hereinafter referred to as “the DTI”) and the provincial departments responsible for liquor matters jointly embarked on an extensive exercise to evaluate the existing legislation regulating the manufacture, distribution and sale of liquor for consumption in 1994. An analysis of existing liquor legislation and the state of the liquor industry was conducted in 1996. The outcome of the joint review was a new policy on liquor regulation and draft legislation, which were approved by the Members of the Executive Council responsible for liquor matters through a series of MinMec meetings. The Liquor Policy and the draft Liquor Bill were published for public comment in July 1997. Their publication was followed by extensive consultation with stakeholders at national and provincial level.

The Liquor Bill, 1998 was tabled in Parliament in August 1998 and was approved on 2 November 1998, whereafter the Bill was referred to the President for his assent. The President had reservations about the constitutionality of the Bill and accordingly referred it to the Constitutional Court under section 84(2) of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa 1996 (Act No. 108 of 1996). The Constitutional Court held in Ex Parte President of the RSA In re: Constitutionality of the Liquor Bill, 2000 (1) BCLR (CC) that the Bill was unconstitutional in certain respects. The Liquor Bill, 2003, was drafted with a view to complying with that judgment.

The Bill does not regulate the micro-manufacture or the sale of liquor for consumption except by default. The provincial governments are free to legislate, subject to certain public interest prohibitions in Chapter 2 of the Bill, certain provisions concerning cross holdings across the three tiers of industry in Chapter 4 and the national norms and standards set out in Schedule 1 to the Bill. These provisions are minimal in content, but are necessary to maintain economic unity, essential national standards and minimum standards required for the rendering of services.

Another new element introduced in the Bill is the establishment of the National Liquor Policy Council, which consists of the Minister of Trade and Industry and the relevant Members of the Executive Council of the provinces. This body is responsible for policy formulation and co-ordination and it gives expression and content to the concept of co-operative governance.

The Bill also provides for public interest prohibitions, the regulation of the three tiers of the industry, the powers of inspection and default provisions.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

The objects of the Bill are—

- (a) to reduce the socio-economic and other costs of alcohol consumption by—
 - (i) setting essential national norms and standards in the liquor industry;
 - (ii) regulating the manufacture and wholesale distribution of liquor;
 - (iii) ensuring that the retail sale and micro-manufacture of liquor is regulated;
 - (iv) maintaining economic unity in the structure of the liquor industry; and
- (b) to promote the entry of new participants into the liquor industry, a diversity of ownership and an ethos of social responsibility in the industry.

3. ORGANISATIONAL AND PERSONNEL IMPLICATIONS

As the Bill provides that the DTI is responsible for the licensing and inspection of national manufacturing and for wholesale licences, the Bill requires the DTI to have sufficient capacity to deal with these functions. The Department has provided for a Deputy Director and two Assistant Directors for the licensing and inspection functions.

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

Sufficient funds are available in the current budget for the additional staff required to perform the licensing and inspection functions. Provision has also been made in the Medium Term Expenditure Framework.

5. COMMUNICATION IMPLICATIONS

As the Bill has been previously consulted on and does not constitute a departure from previously agreed policy, no public consultation process is envisaged, save through the parliamentary process. However, once the Bill becomes law, extensive communication with industry and other stakeholders will occur through provincial workshops and through the national media.

6. CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS

The constitutional concerns have been addressed in the new Bill. It is therefore not anticipated that further constitutional matters will arise.

7. OTHER DEPARTMENTS/BODIES CONSULTED

The content of the Bill was agreed upon between the Minister of Trade and Industry and the Members of the Executive Council responsible for liquor matters in each province.

8. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

The State Law Advisers and the Department of Trade and Industry are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 76(1) of the Constitution since it involves an intervention in terms of section 44(2) of the Constitution.
