MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE GENERAL INTELLIGENCE LAWS AMENDMENT BILL, 2011

1. BACKGROUND

1.1 In September 2009, the President issued a proclamation by virtue of which the National Intelligence Agency and the South African Secret Service were abolished as national departments of State. By virtue of the same proclamation, the State Security Agency (the SSA) was established as a national department. The proclamation also listed certain government components for which the SSA would be the responsible national department, viz. Electronic Communications Security (Pty) Ltd (Comsec), the South African National Academy of Intelligence, the National Intelligence Agency and the South African Secret Service. The intention of the proclamation was to consolidate the structures concerned and thereby to address the proliferation of intelligence structures. The number of intelligence structures had the unintended consequence of duplicating several support functions. This duplication had a negative effect on the service delivery of the intelligence services.

1.2 The General Intelligence Laws Amendment Bill, 2011 (the Bill), seeks to complete the consolidation process by providing for suitable amendments to applicable laws.

2. PURPOSE AND STRUCTURE OF BILL

2.1 The main purpose of the Bill is to amend three Acts of Parliament which relate to security services and to repeal an Act which had become obsolete due to the consolidation of the intelligence structures. The three Acts being amended are the National Strategic Intelligence Act, 1994 (Act No. 39 of 1994), the Intelligence Services Oversight Act, 1994 (Act No. 40 of 1994), and the Intelligence Services Act, 2002 (Act No. 65 of 2002). The Bill seeks to repeal the Electronic Communications Security (Pty) Ltd Act, 2002 (Act No. 68 of 2002) (the Comsec Act).

2.2 Provision is furthermore made for suitable transitional provisions and savings which are necessitated by the amalgamation of the entities concerned.

2.3 Lastly, the Bill seeks to amend a number of laws in order to bring them in line with the new security service dispensation.

3. Amendment of National Strategic Intelligence Act, 1994

3.1 The changes envisaged in respect of the National Strategic Intelligence Act, 1994, seek to give effect to the reconstituted SSA. The Bill furthermore seeks to clarify the role and functions of the SSA. In view of the proposed repeal of the Comsec Act, it is proposed in the Bill that the SSA performs functions which are currently assigned to Comsec. The Bill also seeks to provide for suitable definitions of words or expressions used in respect of new provisions which are being inserted in the National Strategic Intelligence Act, 1994.

3.2 The Bill seeks to make provision afresh for the composition of the National Intelligence Co-ordinating Committee (Nicoc).

4. Amendment of Intelligence Services Oversight Act, 1994

The amendments proposed in respect of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act, 1994, are of a technical nature. The amendments seek to align the Act with the new dispensation proposed in the Bill in respect of the SSA. The Bill furthermore seeks to align the Act with current legislation, for example by replacing references to repealed Acts of Parliament with references to current legislation.

5. Amendment of Intelligence Services Act, 2002

The main amendments proposed in respect of the Intelligence Services Act relate to the amalgamation of the National Intelligence Agency, the South African Secret Service, the South African National Academy of Intelligence and Comsec into the SSA. Most of the other amendments proposed in respect of the Intelligence Services Act, 2002, seek to effect changes brought about by the reconstituted SSA. The Bill seeks, for example, to replace references in the Intelligence Services Act, 2002, to entities to be taken up in the SSA, with references to the SSA; and to replace references to the Chief Executive Officer of the Academy of Intelligence with references to the Director-General of the SSA or, where necessary, to omit references to the said CEO. Other changes are of a technical nature, e.g. to replace the expression “security screening investigations” with “vetting investigations”. The power of the Minister to make regulations is also amplified.

6. Repeal of Comsec Act

As mentioned above, the Bill seeks to repeal the Comsec Act. Functions of Comsec will in future be performed by the SSA.

7. Amendment of other laws

The Bill seeks to effect amendments of a technical nature to a number of Acts of Parliament. The proposed amendments by and large relate to the new role the SSA is to play in relation to security services. The following laws are being amended:

- Security Services Special Account Act, 1969 (Act No. 81 of 1996);
- Protection of Information Act, 1982 (Act No. 84 of 1982);
- Public Service Act, 1994 (Proclamation No. 103 of 1994);
- Labour Relations Act, 1995 (Act No. 66 of 1995);
- Government Employees Pension Law, 1996 (Proclamation No. 21 of 1996);
- Basic Conditions of Employment Act, 1997 (Act No. 75 of 1997);
- Witness Protection Act, 1998 (Act No. 112 of 1998);
- Medical Schemes Act, 1998 (Act No. 131 of 1998);
- Financial Intelligence Centre Act, 2001 (Act No. 38 of 2001);
- Private Security Industry Regulation Act, 2001 (Act No. 56 of 2001);
- Institution of Legal Proceedings against certain Organs of State Act, 2002 (Act No. 40 of 2002); and
- Regulation of Interception of Communications and Provision of Communication-related Information Act, 2002 (Act No. 70 of 2002).

8. DEPARTMENTS OR BODIES CONSULTED

Since the Bill contains no new policy proposition, no Departments have been consulted.

9. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The budgets of the amalgamated entities will be merged and will be controlled by the Director-General as Chief Financial Officer of the SSA. Once the Bill has been enacted into law and whenever necessary, a single financial statement will be produced. There are no new financial implications.

10. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

10.1 The State Law Advisers and the Ministry of State Security are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.

10.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
