(3) The Minister, and every MEC with the concurrence of the Minister, may compile information and maps that specify the attributes of the environment in particular geographical areas, including the sensitivity, extent, interrelationship and significance of such attributes which must be taken into account by every competent authority.

- (4) Procedures for the investigation, assessment and communication of the potential impact of activities must ensure, as a minimum, with respect to every application for an environmental authorisation—

 - (h) that the findings and recommendations flowing from such investigation, the general objectives of integrated environmental management laid down in this Act and the principles of environmental management set out in section 2 are taken into account in any decision made by an organ of state in relation to the proposed policy, programme, plan or project; and 25
 - (i) that environmental attributes identified in the compilation of information and maps as contemplated in subsection (3) are considered. 30
- (5) The Minister, and every MEC with the concurrence of the Minister, may make regulations consistent with subsection (4)—
- (a) laying down the procedure to be followed in applying for, the issuing of and monitoring compliance with environmental authorisations; 35

- (6) An MEC may make regulations in terms of subsection (5) only in respect of listed activities or areas in respect of which the MEC responsible for environmental affairs is the competent authority. 20
- (7) Compliance with the procedure laid down by the Minister or an MEC in terms of subsection (4) does not remove the need to obtain an authorisation, other than an environmental authorisation, for that activity from any organ of state charged by law with authorising, permitting or otherwise allowing the implementation of the activity. 25
- (8) Authorisations or permits obtained under any other law for an activity listed or specified in terms of this Act does not absolve the applicant from obtaining authorisation under this Act and any such other authorisations or permits may only be considered by the competent authority in compliance with subsection (4)(d). 30

MEMORANDUM
ON THE OBJECTS OF THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT SECOND AMENDMENT BILL

1. GENERAL BACKGROUND

The National Environmental Management Second Amendment Bill contains amendments to Chapter 5 of the National Environmental Management Act, 1998 (Act No. 107 of 1998) (NEMA), on integrated environmental management.

The Bill seeks to amend NEMA to enable the system of environmental impact assessments and related management tools to be regulated in terms of NEMA, rather than under the Environment Conservation Act, 1989 (Act No. 73 of 1989). In doing so the Bill introduces certain improvements to the system of environmental impact management.

2. MAIN OBJECTS

The current system of environmental impact management is regulated in terms of sections 21, 22 and 26 of the Environment Conservation Act, 1989 (Act No. 73 of 1989) (ECA), and regulations issued thereunder. Chapter 5 of NEMA established a new framework for environmental impact management. The Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism now wishes to bring the system of impact assessments under NEMA. In order to do so Chapter 5 of NEMA requires certain amendments to streamline the process of regulating and administering the impact assessment process in the national, provincial and local spheres. The amendments also provide for a range of integrated environmental management tools, including but not limited to environmental impact assessments (EIAs).

The Bill seeks to provide for—

- the listing of activities that require an environmental authorisation;
- offences when listed activities are undertaken without or in contradiction with an environmental authorisation;
- the registration of associations of environmental assessment practitioners;
- cost recovery for services delivered by competent authorities.

3. ORGANISATIONAL AND PERSONNEL IMPLICATIONS

The national and provincial spheres of government currently administer the system of environmental impact assessments and it is anticipated that the Bill will decrease the administrative burden on both spheres of government. The Bill will therefore not increase organisational or personnel requirements.

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

As national and provincial departments currently administer the system of EIAs, it is not anticipated that the Bill will increase the financial resources required for administering EIAs. The Bill provides for the payment for services delivered by authorities and it will therefore have a positive impact on the budgets in the national and provincial spheres.

5. DEPARTMENTS/BODIES CONSULTED

The Bill was published for comment and comments were received from approximately 40 institutions and individuals. The Bill has been redrafted to incorporate comments from a wide range of stakeholders including national departments, provinces, business and industry, academic institutions and civil society.

6. CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS

None.

7. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

The Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism and the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that the procedure contemplated in section 76 of the Constitution should be followed since the Bill falls within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution, namely “Environment”.
