MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE LAND AFFAIRS GENERAL AMENDMENT BILL

1. Introduction

1.1 The Land Affairs General Amendment Bill contains amendments to two Acts administered by the Department of Land Affairs. The Acts affected by the proposed amendments are the Land Reform (Labour Tenants) Act, 1996 (Act No. 3 of 1996), and the Extension of Security of Tenure Act, 1997 (Act No. 62 of 1997).

1.2 Due to the nature of the proposed amendments, separate Bills are not justified. It is common practice to embody the amendments, as proposed, in one Bill.

2. Objects of Bill

2.1 The objects of the proposed Bill are to effect certain amendments to the two Acts referred to in paragraph 1.1.

2.2 In terms of section 16 of the Land Reform (Labour Tenants) Act, 1996 (Act No. 3 of 1996), hereinafter referred to as “the LTA”, labour tenants have the right to purchase the land which they occupy and use. Advances and subsidies for that purpose are granted by the Minister for Agriculture and Land Affairs. The LTA does not explicitly provide for the granting of advances and subsidies to a labour tenant’s associate. When labour tenants and associates apply for approval of a project, funds are released for associates in terms of section 4 of the Extension of Security of Tenure Act, 1997 (Act No. 62 of 1997), hereinafter referred to as “the ESTA”, and grants to labour tenants in terms of section 27 of the LTA. This tedious process causes delays in finalising labour tenants projects. To ensure that funds for the same projects, which provide for secure tenure for members of the same family, are released in a uniform manner, amendments to sections 1 and 27 of the LTA are recommended. Clauses 1 and 5 of the Bill address this problem by the inclusion of “associates”.

2.3 Section 9(1) of the LTA protects a labour tenant who has attained the age of 65 years, from eviction, while section 8(4) of the ESTA provides for the age of 60 years. Clause 2 of the Bill proposes that the age of 65 years be reduced to 60 years in order to bring the provisions of the LTA in line with the ESTA. This will ensure that people who have lived on land for many years and who are pensioners, cannot be evicted and suffer hardship due to the eviction. In fact, they would have the right to secure tenure for the remainder of their lives, provided they do not commit a breach in terms of the provisions of the ESTA.

2.4 Section 15 of both the LTA and the ESTA provides for owners of land to seek relief by means of urgent evictions under certain exceptional circumstances. There are four requirements under the ESTA while the LTA only contains three requirements. In order to align those requirements, it is proposed that the requirement that the owner makes arrangements for the reinstatement of the evicted person, if a final order for eviction is not granted by the court, be inserted in the LTA. Clause 3 of the Bill provides for this.

2.5 In order to fully align the eviction procedures in the LTA and the ESTA, and to eliminate dual eviction procedures for people who have the same rights in land, it is imperative that the offences provided for in section 23 of the ESTA, also be embodied in the LTA to make illegal evictions uniform. Clause 4 of the Bill provides for this insertion.

2.6 In terms of the definition of “occupier” in section 1 of the ESTA, a labour tenant is excluded from being an occupier for the purposes of the Act. The deletion of paragraph (a), which excludes a labour tenant from the definition of “occupier”, now gives recognition to labour tenants as a class of farm dwellers. The insertion of the definition of “established practice” now also establishes a right to people residing on land to bury deceased members of the family on that land. Such a practice becomes established if the owner or person in charge of land has routinely given permission for such burials (clause 6). The provisions of clause 7 are inserted in the ESTA to regulate the burial of an occupier's deceased family member who was residing on the land on which the occupier is residing, at the time of that member's death, and the burial of the occupier by his or her family members.

2.7 Clause 8 contains the short title of the Bill.

3. Consultation

Although the proposed amendments of the LTA and the ESTA are of a technical nature, the Department consulted with the following instances:

- (a) The Agricultural Union of South Africa; and
- (b) the National Land Committee.

4. Parliamentary procedure

The State Law Advisers and the Department of Land Affairs are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
