SCHEDULELAW AMENDED
(Section 36)

No. and year of Act	Short title	Extent of repeal or amendment
Act No. 97 of 1990	Financial Services Board Act, 1990	Amends section 1 by the addition in the definition of “financial institution” of the following subparagraph after paragraph (xii): “(xiii) any “credit rating agency” as defined in section 1 of the Credit Rating Services Act, 2012;”.

MEMORANDUM ON OBJECTS OF CREDIT RATING SERVICES BILL, 2012

1. BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

- 1.1 Credit rating agencies issue opinions on the creditworthiness of a particular issuer or financial instrument, or the likelihood that an issuer will honour its financial obligations on a timely basis. These opinions are referred to as credit ratings. Credit ratings carry considerable weight in financial markets, both in terms of business practice and regulatory requirements.
- 1.2 Credit rating agencies have hitherto not been regulated in South Africa. The only exception is section 85A of the Banks Act, 1990 (Act No. 94 of 1990), which requires the Registrar of Banks to approve an external credit assessment institution or export credit agency before a bank or controlling company may make use of its credit assessment in the calculation of its prescribed minimum amount of required capital and reserve funds.
- 1.3 As stated, credit ratings are applied for, inter alia, regulatory purposes. Apart from such ratings used by banks in the calculation of their prescribed minimum amount of required capital and reserve funds, there are other instances where institutions are legally required to obtain credit ratings. In terms of the Local Government: Municipal Finance Management Act, 2003 (Act No. 56 of 2003), a municipality may invest funds only in investment types with an investment grade rating from a nationally or internationally recognised credit rating agency. The listing requirements of the Johannesburg Stock Exchange Limited refer to credit ratings, as well as the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act, 2002 (Act No. 45 of 2002), to name just a few examples. The investment mandates of most fund managers in South Africa require the use of credit ratings.
- 1.4 There are currently five credit rating agencies operating in South Africa. They are Moody's Investor Services Limited or Moody's Investor Services South Africa (Pty) Ltd, Fitch Rating Limited or Fitch Ratings Southern Africa (Pty) Limited, Standard & Poor's, Global Credit Rating Co. and Ratings Africa.
- 1.5 Following the global financial crisis, credit rating agencies have been criticised for their role in the crisis. The report of the Financial Stability Forum published on 7 April 2008 blamed credit rating agencies for—
 - 1.5.1 failure to detect the worsening of the financial market conditions and to adapt their ratings timeously;
 - 1.5.2 failure to adapt to the new risks of the credit market, e.g. structured credit products (derivatives) and hedge funds;
 - 1.5.3 having given investment-grade (high) ratings to securitisation transactions, i.e. collateralised debt obligations and mortgage-backed securities, as a result of the close relationship with the issuers of such securities;
 - 1.5.4 lowering some of their ratings due to pressure introduced by competition; and
 - 1.5.5 contributing to the crisis because of the poor quality of some of the ratings of the structured financial instruments.
- 1.6 The G20 response to the financial crisis included recommendations on credit rating agencies specifically. It was recommended that credit rating agencies whose ratings are used for regulatory purposes should be subject to a regulatory oversight regime that includes registration.

- 1.7 The International Organisation of Securities Commissions adopted the following principle on the regulation of credit rating agencies in June 2010: Credit rating agencies should be subject to adequate levels of oversight. The regulatory system should ensure that credit rating agencies whose ratings are used for regulatory purposes are subject to registration and ongoing supervision.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

The Bill aims to—

- 2.1 ensure responsible and accountable credit rating agencies;
- 2.2 protect the integrity, transparency and reliability of the credit rating process and credit ratings;
- 2.3 improve investor protection;
- 2.4 improve the fairness, efficiency and transparency of financial markets; and
- 2.5 reduce systemic risk.

3. CHAPTER-BY-CHAPTER ANALYSIS

- 3.1 Chapter 1 contains the relevant definitions and sets out the objects and application of the Act.
- 3.2 Chapter 2 provides for the registration of credit rating agencies, and details the circumstances under which the registration of a credit rating agency may be suspended or cancelled.
- 3.3 Chapter 3 deals with the duties of credit rating agencies. The chapter requires credit rating agencies to inform the registrar of the appointment of directors. It deals with the methodologies to be adopted by credit rating agencies when credit ratings are issued and contains general requirements pertaining to credit ratings. The chapter further requires credit rating agencies to adopt a code of conduct, obtain the registrar's approval before outsourcing, make prescribed disclosures, maintain records, annually publish reports, and establish and maintain an independent compliance function. Finally, chapter 3 contains accounting and auditing requirements for credit rating agencies.
- 3.4 Chapter 4 contains requirements for the endorsement by credit rating agencies of external credit ratings.
- 3.5 Chapter 5 contains provisions regarding the liability of credit rating agencies. It further requires credit rating agencies to be independent.
- 3.6 Chapter 6 provides for the powers and functions of the registrar and deputy registrar of credit rating agencies. The registrar has the power to make rules, authorise inspections and issue directives. It also prescribes that the registrar may liaise with other regulatory authorities.
- 3.7 Chapter 7 deals with enforcement actions and remedies. It empowers the registrar to take civil action in cases of non-compliance or non-adherence to the provisions of the Act. It also prescribes offences and penalties. A right of appeal is provided to a person whose rights are adversely effected by a decision of the registrar.
- 3.8 Chapter 8 contains general provisions, such as powers of the Minister to make regulations, saving of rights and amendment of laws.

4. DEPARTMENTS OR BODIES CONSULTED

The National Treasury and the Financial Services Board have consulted extensively during the development of this Bill.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

None.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 6.1 The State Law Advisers and the National Treasury are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or section 76 of the Constitution applies.
- 6.2 Furthermore, the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
