deceased, acquires a claim against the other spouse or his estate for an amount equal to half of the difference between the accrual of the respective estates of the spouses.

(2) Subject to the provisions of section 8 (1), a claim in terms 5 of subsection (1) arises at the dissolution of the marriage and the right of a spouse to share in terms of this Act in the accrual of the estate of the other spouse is during the subsistence of the marriage not transferable or liable to attachment, and does not form part of the insolvent estate of a spouse.

10 4. (1) (a) The accrual of the estate of a spouse is the amount Accrual of by which the net value of his estate at the dissolution of estate. his marriage exceeds the net value of his estate at the commencement of that marriage.

(b) In the determination of the accrual of the estate of a spouse-

- (i) any amount which accrued to that estate by way of damages, other than damages for patrimonial loss, is left out of account;
- (ii) an asset which has been excluded from the accrual system in terms of the antenuptial contract of the spouses, as well as any other asset which he ac-Stor Stat 1 quired by virtue of his possession or former posses-sion of the first-mentioned asset, is not taken into 「長い水のい」 account as part of that estate at the commencethe second second ment or the dissolution of his marriage;
- (iii) the net value of that estate at the commencement of his marriage is calculated with due allowance for any difference which may exist in the value of money at the commencement and dissolution of his marriage, and for that purpose the weighted average of the consumer price index as published art af the second from time to time in the Gazette serves as prima facie proof of any change in the value of money.

(2) The accrual of the estate of a deceased spouse is determin-35 ed before effect is given to any testamentary disposition, donation mortis causa or succession out of that estate in terms of the law of intestate succession. . 14

5. (1) An inheritance, a legacy or a donation which accrues to Inheritances, a spouse during the subsistence of his marriage, as well as any legacies and 40 other asset which he acquired by virtue of his possession or for-excluded from excluded from mer possession of such inheritance, legacy or donation, does not accrual, form part of the accrual of his estate, except in so far as the spouses may agree otherwise in their antenuptial contract or in so far as the testator or donor may stipulate otherwise.

45 (2) In the determination of the accrual of the estate of a spouse a donation between spouses, other than a donation mortis causa, is not taken into account either as part of the estate of the donor or as part of the estate of the donee.

6. (1) Where a party to an intended marriage does not for the Proof of 50 purpose of proof of the net value of his estate at the commence- commencement ment of his marriage declare that value in the antenuptial con-estate. tract concerned, he may for such purpose declare that value before the marriage is entered into or within six months thereafter in a statement, which shall be signed by the other party, and 55 cause the statement to be attested by a notary and filed with the copy of the antenuptial contract of the parties in the protocol of the notary before whom the antenuptial contract was executed.

(2) A notary attesting such a statement shall furnish the parties with a certified copy thereof on which he shall certify that 60 the original is kept in his protocol together with the copy of the antenuptial contract of the parties or, if he is not the notary before whom the antenuptial contract was executed, he shall send the original statement by registered post to the notary in whose protocol the antenuptial contract is kept, or to the custodian of 65 his protocol, as the case may be, and the last-mentioned notary or that custodian shall keep the original statement together with the copy of the antenuptial contract of the parties in his protocol. - (iii) inheritance, legacy, donation, bursary or prize left, bequeathed, made or awarded to the other spouse;
- (iv) income derived from the separate property of the other spouse;
- (v) dividends or interest on or the proceeds of shares or investments in the name of the other spouse;
- (vi) the proceeds of any insurance policy or annuity in favour of the other spouse;
- (c) donate to another person any asset of the joint estate or alienate such an asset without value, excluding an asset of which the donation or alienation does not and probably will not unreasonably prejudice the interest of the other spouse in the joint estate, and which is not contrary to the provisions of subsection (2) or paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(4) The consent required for the purposes of paragraphs (b) to (g) of subsection (2), and subsection (3) may, except where it is 20 required for the registration of a deed in a deeds registry, also be given by way of ratification within a reasonable time after the act concerned.

(5) The consent required for the performance of the acts contemplated in paragraphs (a), (b), (f), (g) and (h) of subsection 25 (2) shall be given separately in respect of each act and shall be attested by two competent witnesses.

(6) The provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), (f), (g) and (h) of subsection (2) do not apply where an act contemplated in those paragraphs is performed by a spouse in the ordinary course of 30 his profession, trade or business.

(7) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) (c), a spouse may without the consent of the other spouse-

(a) sell listed securities on the stock exchange and cede or pledge listed securities in order to buy listed securities;

(b) alienate, cede or pledge-

- (i) a deposit held in his name at a building society or banking institution;
- (ii) building society shares registered in his name.

(8) In determining whether a donation or alienation contem-40 plated in subsection (3) (c) does not or probably will not unreasonably prejudice the interest of the other spouse in the joint estate, the court shall have regard to the value of the property donated or alienated, the reason for the donation or alienation, the financial and social standing of the spouses, their standard of 45 living and any other factor which in the opinion of the court should be taken into account.

(9) When a spouse enters into a transaction with a person contrary to the provisions of subsection (2) or (3) of this section, or an order under section 16 (2), and-

(a) that person does not know and cannot reasonably know that the transaction is being entered into contrary to those provisions or that order, it is deemed that the transaction concerned has been entered into with the consent required in terms of the said subsection (2) or (3), or while the power concerned of the spouse has not been suspended, as the case may be;

(b) that spouse knows or ought reasonably to know that he will probably not obtain the consent required in terms of the said subsection (2) or (3), or that the power concerned has been suspended, as the case may be, and the joint estate suffers a loss as a result of that transaction, an adjustment shall be effected in favour of the other spouse upon the division of the joint estate.

(2) A court making an order under subsection (1) may order that the community of property be replaced by another matri-20 monial property system, subject to such conditions as it may deem fit.

21. (1) A husband and wife, whether married before or after Change of the commencement of this Act, may jointly apply to a court for matrimonial leave to change the matrimonial property system, including the property system. 25 marital power, which applies to their marriage, and the court may, if satisfied that-

(a) there are sound reasons for the proposed change;

sufficient notice of the proposed change has been given (b)to all the creditors of the spouses; and no other person will be prejudiced by the proposed (c) change, order that such matrimonial property system shall no longer ap-ply to their marriage and authorize them to enter into a notarial contract by which their future matrimonial property system is 35 regulated on such conditions as the court may think fit.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any law or the common law contained, but subject to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c), the spouses to a marriage out of community of property entered into before the commencement of this Act in terms of an antenuptial contract by which community of property and com-munity of profit and loss are excluded, may cause the provisions of Chapter I to apply in respect of their marriage by the execution and registration in a registry within two years after that commencement of a notarial contract to that effect.

The provisions of Chapter I apply in such a case from (b)the date of the conclusion of the marriage of the spouses or from the date of the execution of the notarial contract concerned, as the spouses may declare in that contract.

For the purpose of proof of the net value of the re-(c)spective estates of the spouses on the date on which the provisions of Chapter I so apply, they may declare that value either in the notarial contract concerned or at any time within one year after the commencement of this Act in a statement as contemplated in section 6, and in the last-mentioned case the provisions of the said section 6 apply mutatis mutandis in respect of that statement.

For the purposes of section 4 (1) the commencement of (d) the marriage concerned is deemed to be the date contemplated in paragraph (b).
