Manual prepared in terms of Section 14 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000

1. INTRODUCTION

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000) prescribes that a Public Body must provide details of records held by such Body so that any request for information may be accommodated.

The details of records kept by a Public Body are contained in a book commonly known as a manual. The records kept pertain to the business / functions of each and every unit. To distinguish between the functions / business of each unit, the records of each unit are numbered differently.

Apart from records, also call files, the manual also contains information on the addresses of the Head of the Department as well as the Information Officers/s of the Public Body and also the name of each unit in the Public Body, its core function and a list of all records kept by the Public Body.
