SPRINGBOKS 2019

ENGLAND vs SOUTH AFRICA
Saturday, 2 November 2019
Kick Off: 11:00

This Saturday, 2 November 2019, let's support our Rugby National Team (Springboks) as they take on England in the do or die 2019 Rugby World Cup Final.

National teams remain our instruments that enhances social cohesion and nation-building.

As a sign of patriotism to the Springboks, government urges South African to GO GREEN on Friday and Saturday and wear their rugby jerseys / apparel. Let's come out in large numbers to all pre-arranged public-viewing areas and rally behind the Rugby National Team.

Go Bokke, bring it home!

Sport has the power to unite

- South Africans are socially diverse, yet are united by their love for our country and our flag.
- We are stronger together and sport has the power to unite and build social cohesion in our diverse communities.
- Mega sporting events have the power to instill a sense of unity, and inspire pride as was the case with the 2010 Fifa World Cup.
- Sport has the formidable power of bridging cultural divides, and can unite people in a way that little else can.
- We invite South Africans to join us as we celebrate the Springboks who are the pride of our nation.
