3.	01 – 31 Aug	Who were the enslaved? Commemorating lives under enslavement at the Cape of Good Hope , Iziko continues to transform the Iziko Slave Lodge from a site of human wrongs to one of human rights; to connect with South Africa and the Cape's slave roots and raise awareness around issues of human rights, equality and justice in the present. And when exploring the ground floor, with its renamed rooms, visitors will find the stories of the enslaved, free blacks, the formerly enslaved and the Khoi – all of whom were people of strength, courage and bravery and whose acts of resistance are	Physical	Iziko Slave Lodge Museum Corner Adderley and Wale Streets, Cape Town	Current exhibition	IZIKO (DSAC entity) Ms Melody Kleinsmith, Marketing and Communications Manager, Iziko Museums of South Africa Email: mkleinsmith@iziko.org.za or Tel: 021 481 3861

7.	01 – 31 Aug	Talking Heads and Heritage: in conversation with the Lydenburg Heads for almost 2 000 years, pots, hoes, beads and, later, walls connected people from Lydenburg to Great Zimbabwe and beyond. There is meaning in the space we live in, the things we make or buy and how we choose to use them. Through space and time, this connects us all. Certain milestones in life are also universal. Initiation ceremonies, 21st birthday parties and certain religious rites are all examples of how we celebrate or acknowledge coming of age. While some rites of passage are modern, others have	Physical	Iziko South African Museum, 25 Queen Victoria Street, Gardens, Cape Town	Current exhibition	IZIKO (DSAC entity) Ms Melody Kleinsmith, Marketing and Communications Manager, Iziko Museums of South Africa Email: mkleinsmith@iziko.org.za or Tel: 021 481 3800

9.	01 – 31 Aug	Breaking Down the Walls – 150 years of Art Collecting The exhibition reflects the diversity of the Iziko Art Collections and brings together objects and artworks from many other collections within Iziko Museums of South Africa in an innovative and exciting manner. This extensive visual showcase occupies most of the ISANG and comprises of more than five hundred works – some on show for the first time ever. Works by South African artists such as Irma Stern, Gerard Sekoto, Peter Clarke and Gladys Mgudlandlu, are juxtaposed with historical paintings and sculptures such as Rembrandt, Picasso and Goya. Breaking Down the Walls comprises of topical sections, as opposed to thematic or chronological arrangements, and viewers are 'activated' by different types of curatorial styles employed across the sections of the exhibition. Curated by Andrew Lamprecht, with a reference group that includes Amohelang Mohajane, Barboro Martinez-Ruiz, Bettina Malcomess, Ciraj Rassool, Ernestine White-Mifetu and Tony Gum, the exhibition has been consciously curated to include the many absences in the art collections.	Physical	Iziko South African National Gallery, Government Avenue, Company's Garden, Cape Town	Current exhibition	IZIKO (DSAC entity) Ms Melody Kleinsmith, Marketing and Communications Manager, Iziko Museums of South Africa Email: mkleinsmith@iziko.org.za or Tel: 021 481 3800
