ISSUES IN THE ENVIRONMENT

Recommendations of the Judicial Commission of Inquiry into Allegations of State Capture, Corruption and Fraud in the Public Sector, including Organs of State

- Today, 22 June 2023, is exactly a year since The Presidency received the final report of the Judicial Commission of Inquiry into Allegations of State Capture, Corruption and Fraud in the Public Sector, including Organs of State.
- In October 2022, President Cyril Ramaphosa submitted to Parliament government's plan for the implementation of the Commission's recommendations. Cabinet is due to receive a progress report on the implementation of the Commission's recommendations.

The economic relations between the three countries are a present-day manifestation of longstanding relations between South Africa and two European Union countries that offered significant support to South Africa's liberation movements and the fight against apartheid.

- During this working visit, South Africa signed Memoranda of Understanding on cooperation in the field of green hydrogen and energy partnerships with the two countries.
- Companies and institutions from the three countries made investment and partnership announcements, including a one billion United States Dollar commitment for the establishment of the SA-H2 Fund to mobilise green hydrogen investments.
- The Public Infrastructure Fund for Water and Energy: Invest International intends to establish a concessional financing package fund for 300 million Euros and grants of 100 million Euros that will assist South Africa in the delivery of water and energy infrastructure.

African Peace Mission

- Cabinet welcomed a briefing by President Ramaphosa on the recent African Peace Mission to Ukraine and the Russian Federation in which the President participated alongside leaders and representatives of the governments of Senegal, Comoros, Zambia, Egypt, Congo-Brazzaville, and Uganda. The Mission underscored South Africa's principled position of non-alignment and the country's commitment to the peaceful resolution of the conflict.
- Cabinet noted that President Volodymyr Zelensky of Ukraine and President Vladimir Putin of the Russian Federation had welcomed the African peace initiative and committed to further engagements with African leaders on matters raised towards a peaceful resolution of the conflict.
- The Mission emphasised the need for a de-escalation of the conflict to allow negotiations to commence with urgency, the return of children taken from Ukraine, the release of prisoners of war and creation of corridors to facilitate for greater humanitarian assistance.
- Cabinet welcomed the appreciation expressed by global leaders of the value of this African Leaders' Peace Initiative towards finding a peaceful resolution of the conflict as expressed by the Prime Ministers of Denmark and the Netherlands, as well as the Foreign Minister of France, amongst others.
- Following the peace mission, South Africa will participate in the African Union-Russia

Summit in Moscow in July, on the sidelines of which, our government will also take the opportunity to further engage Russia on matters the two Presidents undertook to give their consideration.

- President Ramaphosa's National Security Advisor, Prof Fhloisani Sydney Mufamadi, will attend a Peace Summit, convened by President Zelenksy, that will take place in Copenhagen, Denmark, in August.

With regard to the flight that transported South African presidential security personnel and media representatives to Poland en route to Ukraine and Russia, Cabinet noted the unfortunate events that unfolded when this flight landed in Warsaw, Poland.

Cabinet noted that the Department of International Relations and Cooperation will pursue discussion on this matter through the appropriate diplomatic mechanisms and channels.

Trade matters

- Cabinet noted the latest trade figures as presented by the Department of Trade, Industry and Competition showed that South Africa's exports to China reached US$33 billion in 2022, more than twice the level of our next largest trading partner, Germany.
- Overall, South Africa-China trade increased by 30% from US$44 billion in 2018 to US$57 billion by the end of 2022. From 2018 to 2022, average annual growth rates of 10% (exports) and 4.5% (imports) were recorded. South Africa maintained a large trade surplus over those five years.

Energy

The next three to 12 months will see South Africa importing up to 1 000 MW of electricity from Mozambique.
- Cabinet further welcomed continuous improvement in the Eskom's generation capacity that has ensured the utility registers over 60% Energy Availability Factor.

Cabinet extends its appreciation to South Africans for their contribution in lowering the demand for electricity, which has contributed to Eskom being able to maintain lower stages of load-shedding. Saving electricity is a shared responsibility and an action from which all of us benefits.

- Cabinet expressed appreciation for a donation to South Africa by the People's Republic of China of emergency and small-scale generation equipment valued at R167 million. A deployment plan is being developed to ensure the donated equipment is installed in public facilities which will, as a result, be isolated from load-shedding. A formal handover ceremony will take place as soon as the goods are cleared by South African customs authorities.

Water

- Cabinet received an overview of responses by the Department of Water and Sanitation to water and sanitation challenges in the country.
- The overview highlighted the acceleration of surface water resource projects that had previously experienced such as:
 - Construction of the R40 billion Phase 2 of the Lesotho Highlands Water Project which will serve Gauteng and surrounding provinces. Work will be completed in 2027.

The facility will conduct advanced research and training as well as increase the production capacity for radioisotopes. Radioisotope therapy targets cancerous cells with minimal damage to surrounding healthy cells.
- Currently about 5 000 South African patients a year benefit from the supply, and it is expected that these numbers could increase by a factor of five to seven, with the increase in production capacity through the SAIF and the availability of a new cohort of isotopes.

In June 2022, the Constitutional Court had found that the Divorce Act of 1979 in its current form to be inconsistent with the Constitution as it excludes Muslim marriages.
