Introduction

The State of the Nation Address in February 2022 identified bold, decisive actions to address the urgent challenges that our country faces. It was about building a new consensus to take South Africa forward. And it was about leaving no one behind.

“ The path we choose now will determine the course for future generations. ”

“That is why we are taking steps to strengthen our democracy and reaffirm our commitment to a Constitution that protects us all.

We are working together to revitalise our economy and end the inequality and injustice that impedes our progress.

We are standing together against corruption and to ensure that those who are responsible for state capture are punished for their crimes.

We are rebuilding the state and restoring trust and pride in public institutions.”

This booklet provides a one year review of the concrete and measurable actions taken by government over the last year to restore the promise of our democracy.

BUILDING A NEW CONSENSUS

Following a decade of low economic growth and the devastating impact of state capture, the coronavirus pandemic and the violent unrest that occurred in parts of the country last year, South Africa stands at a turning point.

To address these critical challenges, we need a new consensus – a shared vision of what we want to achieve, and a set of priorities to get us there.

This new consensus must include all South Africans in a collective effort to address poverty, unemployment and inequality.

Within 100 days, finalise a comprehensive social compact to grow our economy, create jobs and combat hunger

Social partners are considering a draft Social Compact framework to guide a common programme.

“ If there is one thing we all agree on, it is that the present situation – of deep poverty, unemployment and inequality – is unacceptable and unsustainable. ”

“There is agreement among a broad and diverse range of South Africans that fundamental reforms are needed to revive economic growth.

There is a need both to address the immediate crisis and to create conditions for long-lasting stability and development.

To achieve this, South Africa needs a new consensus.

A consensus that is born out of a common understanding of our current challenging situation and a recognition of the need to address the challenges of unemployment, poverty and inequality.

A new consensus which recognises that the state must create an environment in which the private sector can invest and unleash the dynamism of the economy.

But equally an environment in which South Africans can live a better life and unleash the energy of their capabilities.

This should be a new consensus which embraces our shared responsibility to one another, and acknowledges that we are all in this together.”

President Cyril Ramaphosa

GROWING THE ECONOMY AND JOBS

Our foremost priority is to revive economic growth and create jobs. Through Operation Vulindlela, government is implementing far-reaching economic reforms to place our economy on a new growth trajectory. These reforms will ensure a stable and secure energy supply, clean and safe drinking water, efficient freight transport for our goods to reach global markets, and cheaper data costs for all South Africans.

Over the coming year, significant investment in infrastructure projects will boost economic growth.

Through cutting red tape and supporting small businesses, we will drive job creation and enable entrepreneurs to thrive.

At the same time, government will continue to support job creation directly through the Presidential Employment Stimulus and will expand social protection to support those who are unemployed.
